

APRIL 11 2022 12:44 PM ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED
RUMINATES ON VIRTUES

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED
ZULFIKAR.AHMED@GMAIL.COM

I am interested in Virtues again. My vindication of Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory is a great advance for the entire human race that directly addresses some of the most arcane parts of human thought and intellectual world for more than two millenia.

In particular, my results show that virtues are not theoretical fictions whose value is in unreasonable altruism for the sake of others at all but instead empirically proven to increase individual life satisfaction.

To make things clear, the confusion in the West of more than two millenia has been that without any firm evidence for improvement of life satisfaction from high moral virtues, the discussion of virtues had always been unconvincing. There is a huge amount of thought and writing as a consequence of lack of sure clear knowledge and I resolved this with my work.

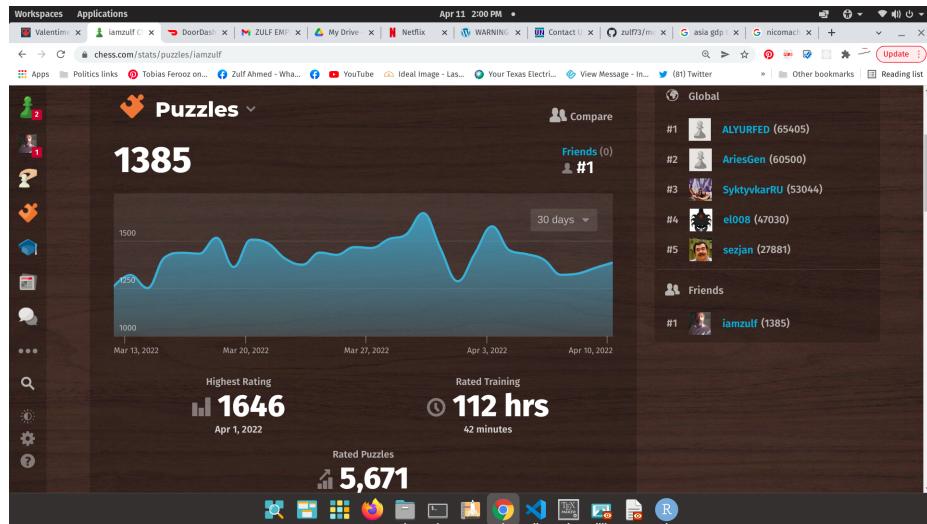

Before my work of 2021 in vindication of Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory there was no clear global evidence that higher moral virtues have any direct and verifiable benefits to the individual at all. As a consequence there have been great skepticism both in West and East regarding whether there is substance to Virtues at all or whether they were merely cosmetic in nature. Between the original publication of Aristotle's Nicomachean Ethics around 340 BC to 2021 AD when I, Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, had shown on global empirical data that high moral values correlate with high life satisfaction, no one had certain knowledge that the philosophical arguments and analysis of Nicomachean ethics had any bearing on actual life on Earth.

Confusions of 2361 years in the entire world were thus removed with my vindication of Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory for moral Virtues. It is the lack of empirical evidence that had spawned a large literature that had been confused about whether moral Virtues were valuable or not.

1. ARCHIVE OF MY WORK

I have archived my work in Github [1]. This archive contains both the establishment of Universal Human Moral Nature as well as the vindication of Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory for moral Virtues.

2. MY CHESS RATING IS AT 1385

3. VIRTUOUS CHARACTER IS NOT ZERO-ONE SITUATION

It is an arbitrary decision to say that such and such is a Virtuous Character or they do not. The truth is that Virtues have scales and people can have different levels of Virtues. In other words one is not just either Virtuous or Vicious, but there are continuous scales for levels of Virtues. I bring this up because yesterday I proposed a Power Law with stochastic volatility model of Virtuous, and I was reading Christian Miller's The Character Gap where he states that we talk about being virtuous because we are not already virtuous. This is misguided thinking, because there are levels of Virtues. We talk about improving our chess game when we are at 1385 because although we're better than 1000 rating we're not in 1800 rating.

4. GREAT IDEA MISSILE STRIKE BILL GATES

United States Government ought to follow through with their threat and missile strike Bill Gates as you ought to have done this more than a year ago right when he assaulted my personal meta with US War and Industrial Power and had been mangling all aspects of my life based on some fringe political white supremacist agenda. I don't understand what sort of principles you adhere to, that these War Crimes are committed on American soil.

5. THE NATURALISTIC OUTLOOK FOR VIRTUES AND CHARACTER

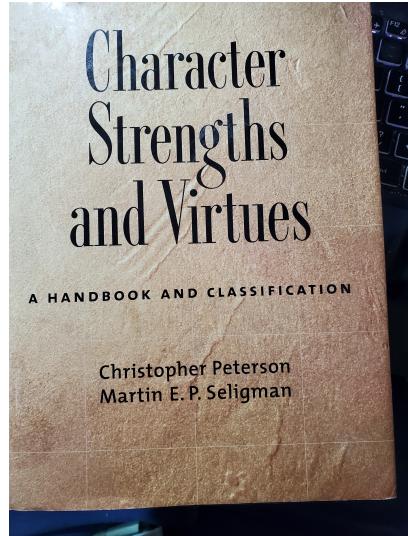

I am not Catholic, although both Lys K. Waltien and Jeff McNeal were Catholic, and both had been teachers for me and had been kind to me so I generally have a good opinion of Catholics. Having said that, I don't want Catholics taking credit for my great works on vindication of Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory on empirical data. This is one of my greatest achievements, and I want full credit for the momentous transformative achievement myself, and share only credit for scraps with everyone else on issues of Virtue-Eudaimonia theory.

You see, the point is that there are great mysteries that remain for our collective understanding of human nature. The adaptations encoded in G_c , the genetic code in common, some 99.9% of everyone's genome is still shrouded in mystery. Virtues are in harmony with human nature, and that is why I discovered the high correlation of high moral values with high life satisfaction. This is a great triumph in Man's understanding of nature, and our own nature. The greatness of Aristotle's genius in Book II of Nicomachean Ethics never had a stronger vindication than my results which banish all doubts regarding how moral Virtues – and also a larger set including Romantic Love Virtues – together give us the Rosetta Stone to unlock the genetic potential that all human beings are born with for Eudaimonia, for Life Satisfaction. This is the perspective on Virtue-Eudaimonia that is more powerful than considering exemplars. Exemplars like Abraham Lincoln and Harriet Tubman and others are unique in their way.

I advocate thinking about the exemplary man or woman who potentially lies hidden within us, and our Life Satisfaction is the final goal that Virtue allows us to reach.

6. MARTIN SELIGMAN'S CLASSIFICATION OF ALL VIRTUES

With my great discoveries, both for existence of Universal Human Moral Nature as well as vindication of Virtue-Eudaimonia Theory for moral Virtues and those associated with Romantic Love, we can appreciate the tremendous importance of having a complete classification of all Virtues.

The classification and study of all human Virtues is one of the truly great achievements of twenty first century. The book was published in 2004. This book is also in the right direction with reference to the status of Virtue-Eudaimonia that I have established empirically.

7. EXCRUCIATING PHYSICAL PAIN FROM BILL GATES POWER CONSIDERS

Without any physical symptoms, by Bill Gates power considers harming my Body meta and others I am right now in excruciating physical pain. I want Bill

Gates to be bombed and physically destroyed for this insolence and United States Government is obligated to deliver.

If United States Government does not deliver, I will seek to disarm the United States Government of all weapons because Bill Gates is the only person on Earth who is truly deserving of being bombed and destroyed. United States Government does not bomb and destroy the one person in the whole wide world who deserves this but constantly bombs and kills innocent good people everywhere on Earth.

8. A REFOCUSING ATTENTION TO MY CHARACTER

I have my Character Strengths analysed by VIA Institute questionnaire and am quite proud of it [2]. I want to examine this a bit further, to understand what is true for eight billion people.

Before going forward with specifics, let me remind my readers that my ultimate interest is in understanding how to significantly improve Life Satisfaction for all people. That's the great challenge, how to improve Life Satisfaction in a uniform way for eight billion people.

Examination of my own character is not an important challenge, but it might give insights for understang of the great challenge in some manner.

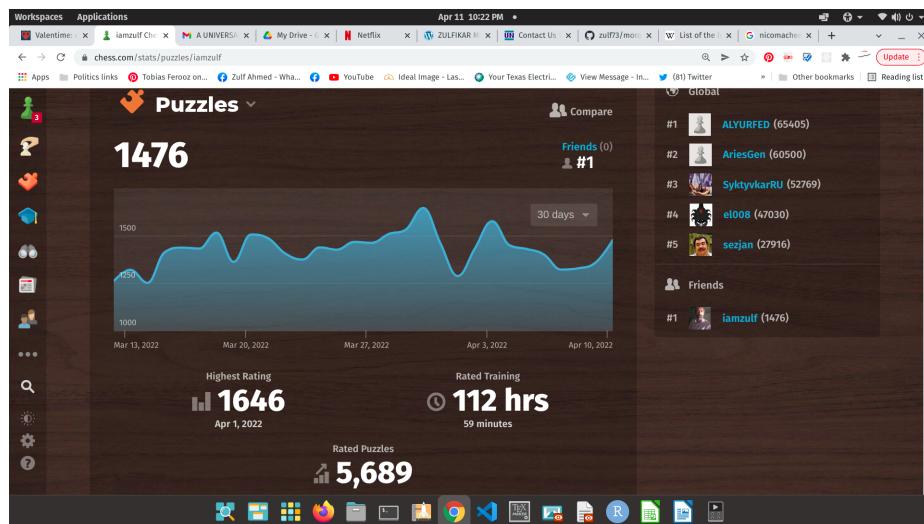

Group	Virtue	Value
1	Wisdom	Creativity 5.00
2	Wisdom	Curiosity 4.75
3	Wisdom	Open-Minded 3.00
4	Wisdom	Love Learning 4.00
5	Wisdom	Perspective 4.25
6	Courage	Bravery 4.50
7	Courage	Persistence 3.00
8	Courage	Integrity 4.50
9	Courage	Vitality 3.75
10	Humanity	Love 5.00
11	Humanity	Kindness 2.75
12	Humanity	Social Intelligence 4.00
13	Justice	Citizenship 1.75
14	Justice	Fairness 3.00
15	Justice	Leadership 3.00
16	Temperance	Forgiveness 4.25
17	Temperance	Humility 1.25
18	Temperance	Prudence 1.75
19	Temperance	Self-Regulation 3.25
20	Transcendence	Beauty 4.00
21	Transcendence	Gratitude 3.50
22	Transcendence	Hope 4.50
23	Transcendence	Humor 4.25
24	Transcendence	Spirituality 4.50

I am slowly getting this table filled up from the report I purchased from VIA Institute. I am quite curious about the ranking of the Virtue classes for a quick understanding of my own Character.

We begin to see that in classes, I have ranking (1) Wisdom, (2) Transcendence, (3) Courage as the top three virtue classes.

It's hard to believe that between my soft birth in a small clinic in Bengal in November 19 1973, to this very day, these are the Virtues that occurred over time. They are specific, and they express my uniqueness like a fingerprint. Who has these exactly? How unique are they?

9. MY CHESS RATING REACHES 1475

The Virtue Spectrum of an individual contains an enormous amount of yet-unknown information about how to improve Life Satisfaction, and that I think is the key to the study of these Virtue Spectra. In the end we have Life Satisfaction as our target for all people of Earth.

It is for this reason that I am profoundly impressed with the work of Professor Martin E. P. Seligman and his colleagues. I would like to elevate this particular spectrum as one of the most important measurements for all people, and that is part of my project with Thysself Inc. and (later) Hermes Inc. I want Harvard and Stanford Boards to approve tenure and funding for my efforts right away.

I cannot believe that it is so much effort to get tenure and funding from Harvard and Stanford even after two of the most monumental discoveries about Universal Human Moral Nature and the Virtue-Eudaimonia Theory's validity on sample size of 130,000 from World Values Survey. I don't understand the purpose of the delay at all. I doubt that most professors at Harvard or Stanford have anywhere near equivalently great original discoveries in any arena at all. My discoveries are profound, immortal and provides pathways towards global transformations of a benevolent direction and will advance the entire Human Species forward.

10. ARISTOTLE'S HABITUATION AND VIRTUE-EUDAIMONIA RELATIONSHIPS ARE TRUTH OF NATURE

I just heard that there are those people in academia who are not 'enthusiastic' about Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia and Habituation to Virtues theories. Well, I have empirical evidence that these are true about nature and so these people who want to do something other than serious science should be asked to leave scientific work to serious people.

I found a similar sort of attitude to Expansion and Big Bang and Black holes. These are not true about nature and therefore passing fads and fashions which will be consigned to oblivion once my Four-Sphere Theory displaces Expansionary Cosmology and Gravity theory.

Why doesn't Harvard Board and others stop being silly and give the man his well-deserved funding, tenure, and assist in getting a few Nobel Prizes. The greatness of my work is immortal without doubt.

Aristotle's viewpoints were challenged by Albert Camus and by Robert Musil as well, and they were great literary geniuses; unfortunately these primitive challenges are overthrown by my great work.

11. I NEED TO GET SOME DISTANCE NOW

I have gone quite far now in getting some sense of Aristotelian Virtue-Eudaimonia connection. But now I will want to get some distance from this work. When there is a great deal of progress, perspective is valuable, and I am still alive, although the horrible power maneuvers of Bill Gates had done great harm to my life of course by deliberate cold, arrogant and overweening hubris and I will want to take some time away from the progress so far and think more clearly with distance.

12. ISSUES OF POOR AND RICH

I am poor by American standards, and Bill Gates rich. And yet there is absolutely no doubt in my mind that I am infinitely superior as a man than Bill Gates will be able to achieve in a millennium of attempts. I was listening to a review of F. Scott Fitzgerald and The Great Gatsby which I had read when I was young but don't remember so well. I think I might just re-read it. You see, I always thought of myself as far more elite than most people in the world, and judging myself by my actual achievements, I cannot justify considering someone vile and disgusting like Bill Gates as even a close competitor to my greatness.

I am not exactly looking for wealth as a priority. If that were the case, I would have had a very different life, untouched by the last parts of The Waste Land of T. S. Eliot, as they were written for me specially, as though I could not exist and understand my own self without generous efforts of literary geniuses. But I don't think that I am any less capable of generating wealth than Bill Gates. The Virtue-Eudaimonia of Aristotle is worth trillions for those who understand its significant, the enterprising visionaries whose great ambition is far beyond the claustrophobic minds of the rich philanthropists.

Great Gatsby read through the lens of Power and Limits of the American Dream is quite interesting. You see, I am quite sure that my American Dream must remain uncorrupted, and I will in the end ensure that it is not any vigilante but United States Government that secures my American Dream and wipes out Bill Gates for getting in the way of my American Dream. It has not happened yet, but it's beautiful how The Great Gatsby illuminates my own life.

So, Bill Gates is thinking that he will be part of the untouchable warped culture of the elites like in the Jazz Age of 1920s and get away with hurting Zulf huh? That's not gonna happen in a million years. Zulf will get his vendetta and wipe out Bill Gates. Zulf does not tolerate War Criminals in my country. Untouchable warped culture of the 'elites' and the ultra-rich, huh? I'll show them how untouchable Bill Gates is. Billy the Goats has some very bad things coming to him.

13. MY IMMORTAL GENIUS IS WITHOUT DOUBT

My ouvre contains many many innovations in sciences that are so strong that all alternative theories incompatible with mine will be extinct eventually. Bill Gates is nowhere in the same range of genius that I have exhibited in science. I already know that I am an immortal genius like Galileo and Descartes and Aristotle, while Bill Gates will be exposed as a charlatan throughout his life moonlighting war crimes for decades against Americans.

I am not particularly concerned now about my posthumous legacy. I have delivered the goods to ensure immortality.

REFERENCES

- [1] <https://github.com/zulf73/moral-nature-virtues>
- [2] <https://inferenceresearchllc.com/blog/zulfikar-moinuddin-ahmeds-character-report/>