DEMANDS VARIOUS PRIVILEGES FROM HSOC

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED
ZULFIKAR.AHMED@GMAIL.COM

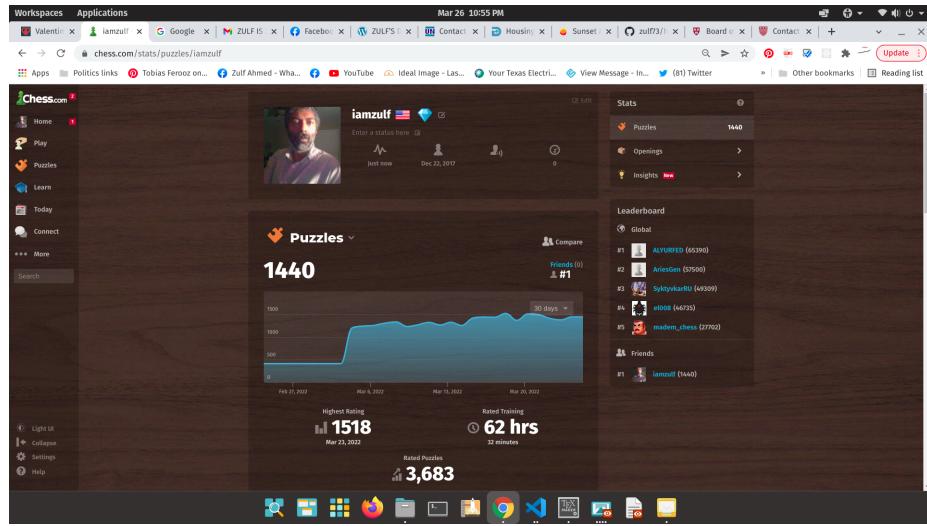

My Emotions series has gone through an entire cycle and there were some good new advances in the series. I am seeking tenured full professorship at HSOC – Harvard, Stanford, Oxford, and Cambridge – under the stressful situation that the arch-criminal Bill Gates who had been plotting a white racial world order for the past five decades behind his facade of a reasonable modern man – had targeted me in particular to test out the limits of his powers. This includes his invading a Harvard tenure consider with US Industrial Power to damage my exoskeleton. The silence of Harvard in particular – although I am putting Stanford, Oxford, and Cambridge in the mix, is a great disappointment because the value of my own original contributions are clearly revolutionary on scales of the entire globe and in time scales of millenia.

For this reason, I want to begin a new series, on Universal Human Nature, beginning with some of my great new discoveries from 2021.

I will have to admit that ever since my birth on the terrestrial sphere in November 19 1973, this is the first time I am on the right, and I am in line with the honour code as well as values of HSOC. I know because I am a Princeton man, and I had signed and adhered to the Princeton values and honour code all my life. I had never even imagined in my entire life that there was creepy genocidal megalomaniac purely narcissistic bad guy with racial world order plans who will have spent his entire life on false self-promotion and total lies scheming in the background to foist an Ultra-Nazi World Order while Harvard and Stanford are corrupted by him and I, Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, have to wear my armour, pick up my Sword and Shield, and begin my heroic quest to save the entire world from the clutches of Evil, close to my 50, and quite lacking in enormous wealth. This particular strange twist of fate never even occurred to me. And here I am taking on all the great Evils of the world.

To Carthage then I came
Lord thou pluckest me out
Lort thou pluckest me out
Burning
Burning

Let's at least check my chess rating again, because I have to flex my geostrategy muscles that have weakened with atrophy.

That's respectable enough for now. So I solemnly begin another foray into Universal Human Psychology. This time it has a certain urgency, because I am pointing out that the entire Anglo-American Intellectual World will sink if I am thwarted.

And for those who do not know, I was roughly quoting The Waste Land of Thomas Stearns Eliot. I was not planning on this sort of heroism at this age, but if the world thrusts it upon me, I will not turn away, my Conscience will not allow it.

1. IT'S NOT ETHNICITY BUT CHARACTER THAT DISTINGUISHES PEOPLE

Many millenia ago, tribes of same ethnicity roamed the world, foragers of rough size 50-200. This was before the birth of Civilisation in Asia, in Sumeria and Mesopotamia. And this is the basis of ethnic tribalism. United States of America, however, declared its independence in 1776 based not on ethnic tribal coherence, but coherence based on a loftier creed. We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal – and that means all men and women on Earth are created equal. We hold these truths to be self-evident that they are granted certain inalienable natural rights directly by their Creator, and these include Life, Liberty, and pursuit of Happiness, and governments are instituted among men to secure them. And that's what I believe as an Asian-American.

Note that there is no tribalism that mars the principles on which this nation was founded. All men are created equal and governments are instituted to secure natural rights of all Americans. Ethnicity does not matter in principle for American philosophy. However, it so happens that the majority is white and minority is non-white so the principles become a little shaky sometimes.

I want to assure the world that American Principles are good. The amount of genetic difference that any two people can have occur at most in 0.1% of the genetic code, and so in a very real sense, all men are actually created equal in a genetic sense. The trouble is that this is not fully known as much as it ought to have been. This genetic variation is the basis of equality that is rock solid.

What distinguishes people are not ethnicity and race at all but rather, Character. It is Character that is bright or dull and that is what makes some people different from others. In some parts of the Psychology this is simply not understood; there is even an entire movement devoted to eliminating moral Character. But this is no fiction. In fact it is I, Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, who vindicated Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory by showing high correlation with high moral values with high Life Satisfaction. Virtues and Character are not matters of the imagination but quite seriously part of reality, yes the scientific reality. It is my great contribution to the world that I established this on empirical data.

2. THE EXPLANATION OF DIVERSITY OF OPINIONS REGARDING EQUALITY, NATURAL RIGHTS, CHARACTER

Around 80 percent of the world today support 'human rights'. The reason there is any dispute exists with the point of view I put forth in the last paragraphs is simply The Veil Of Ignorance. Most human beings have not habituated from early schooling the extremely well-established fact that all human beings share G_c a part of the human genetic code that has constant invariant DNA letter pairs, and also accounts for 99.9% of each person's full genetic code. This fact, which was discovered by molecular geneticists from 2000 (after the Human Genome Project) is well-known in science. But it is not yet absorbed by the public including its rational consequences. I expect that global consensus on these issues will result in time.

3. CHESS RATING GOES DOWN TO 1378

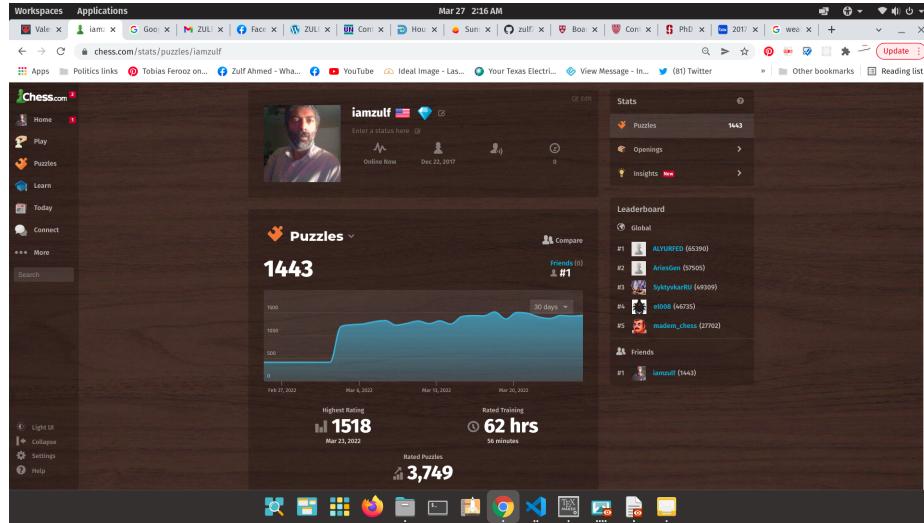

It does not bother me so much that I fail in chess quite often, as I know that I do not have the right groove yet. However, with the beginning of what might be an immortal transformational effort where the entire human race recognises the existence of Universal Human Psychology, I feel that further preparations are necessary. I am examining whether Stanford Mathematics Ph.D. Qual for Fall of 2017 is worth doing simultaneously.

You know some years ago, I was quite enthusiastic about the possibility of Jungian Psychoanalysis for billions. Today my goals are less ambitious. Today I will be happy to see firm foundations of Universal Human Psychology that is undisputed and accepted by all people. As you can see with the interest in the arch-villain Bill Gates for totally sabotaging and destroying my life, which he began executing with use of illegitimate powers in my Blood Meta and Deep Interior, the stakes are much higher for things I am doing than might seem for what seems at first blush to be a technical consideration in an esoteric scientific field. It is much more than that. My work is work of immortal genius and revelations that are all but guaranteed to change the fate of the entire human race.

4. CHESS RATING GOES UP TO 1443

I am thinking about a problem from Stanford Ph.D. Qual Spring 2017. It's a simple problem, but it is worth having a deep clarity about the issues. It's I.1(a). We have that X is a Banach space and $y_n \in X$ with $\|y_n\| = 1$. We are given as well that $y_n \rightarrow y$ weakly. We have to show $\|y\| \leq 1$.

You see, there is no way to avoid a sharp invocation of Banach-Steinhaus Uniform Boundedness Principle for this problem which seems so simple. And the reason for this is that the Uniform Boundedness Principle takes care of subtleties that would lead to failure of getting a strong valid conclusion. You define operators T_n on X^* then apply the Banach-Steinhaus theorem here to conclude $T = \lim_n T_n$ satisfies $\|T\| \leq 1$ and obtain $\|y\| \leq 1$.

Why do I feel that Universal Human Psychology benefits from my mathematical skills? Unlike non-Universal Psychology which benefits from some live experience, some clinical and experimental issues, Universal Human Psychology is extremely subtle purely intellectually, and precision of Mathematics and to a lesser degree of chess hones in some positive outlook that there exists vast number of unknown universal features of Human Psychology that will require effort and care to discover.

5. SOME COMMENTS ABOUT VALIS OF PHILIP K. DICK

The nihilistic world of drug addict suicide types is reality in a sense, but the sort of reality is extremely claustrophobic for me, and for me for whom Percy Bysshe Shelley reaches a lofty peak, even the Modernism of Eliot and Rilke seem like flashbacks to a moment which gazed farther in existence. This is very interesting, for in the end the notion that narcotic drugs have an actual capability to expand consciousness is fundamentally crippling in the end, as Man had forgotten altogether that expanded Consciousness requires a great deal more than narcotic drugs. Perhaps it is this forgetting, this forgetting to such a strong degree that there is nostalgia for religion, as though religion contains some secret of this.

6. BILL GATES PLOTTED WHITE DOMINATION WORLD ORDER ALL HIS LIFE

Behind his glib charlatan and pathologically lying facade, lying about his SAT and IQ scores even, which was closer to 1290 and not 1590, this evil Demon, this archvillain and disgusting abomination, this Bill Gates, this hick illiterate huckster, had a sinister plot of White Domination World Order from early ages. He targeted me to harm in order to implement this world order.

I know these things intimately well and with certainty because he assaulted me with US War Power against my Body Meta forbidden by Geneva Conventions even for Prisoners of War; and he illegitimately used US Industrial Power to damage my Exoskeleton during a Harvard tenure consider while I was physically still in Allen Texas living with my aunt. I attracted his attention naively when I was trying to raise funds for Thyself Inc. I am seeking $80 million for 40% of the company still.

7. FIRM REFUTATION OF MULTIRACE THEORIES

The theory that human beings form multiple races, I have found, cannot be sustained. I am not the first to examine this question, and non-existence of biological races have a long history. Indeed, the United States Declaration of Independence said, "All men are created equal" and I have been at the forefront in giving concrete biological meaning. I have said that this is true when we consider the fertilisation of the female human egg to be the moment of 'creation' as the genetic codes all contain embedded G_c accounting for 99.9% of each individual genetic code. This fact is strongly well-established in molecular genetics, and it is the basis for all study of Universal Human Nature and Universal Human Psychology.

I have shown Ethnicity-Independence of Universal Human Moral Nature, showing instantly that not only are multiple race theories tenable, but indeed, ethnicity explains a tiny fraction of the variation in moral values – measured by World Values Survey moral questions. Ethnicity accounts for 6.5%-9.5% of the variation. These are my original results and they might be found in my Github archive [1].

These results are original, uses high quality World Values Survey data, and are the first of its kind in history and deserve many Nobel Prizes, not just a tenure at Harvard-Stanford-Oxford-Cambridge.

8. HARVARD-STANFORD-OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE YOU ARE MAKING A FATAL ERROR

You see HSOC, I am personally an infinitely better man, and a great deal wiser about philanthropy and benevolence to the human race than this Bill Gates. You have treated one of the worst evil archvillains in world's history, this Bill Gates well, ensured he grew with wealth and power, and you are unable to respond to my tenure and funding request. I am an immortal genius, HSOC, let there be no doubts about this. I am an immortal genius whose contributions already to my beloved people, the Human Race, has been profound and transformative. For example, it was I who not only showed empirically that Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia theory is true but in fact, I expended the spectrum of Virtues beyond moral ones to those associated with Romantic Love, and identified them as having basis in human nature as the genetic inheritance of all human beings for autonomous seeking of Life Satisfaction.

You are most foolish to consider Bill Gates with veneration and consider me with less. These sorts of errors have consequences obviously.

9. WHY I AM VASTLY SUPERIOR TO BILL GATES

You know in the doctor's office perhaps on March 10 2022, I told the admin that I'd get them the co-pay of $25 later, and never actually paid. It's not exactly a deceptive lie; I have to use my aunt's phone to do the transaction, and the never-ending drama from my brother and aunt in addition to my focus on trying to make some progress on psychology took up my time. My aunt is such an ill-tempered woman that I did not think it was worthwhile bothering her. Now Jasmine Sackey from Lifepath and Mike as well probably thinks I have problems with paying bills on time. So she reminded me that I have to co-pay $25 more next time I am there. I consider it an annoying task that is not a big deal. I know that the doctor's office will make all sorts of efforts to charge me anyway.

Look I am an honest man but I am not going to go out of my way to speed to a $25 co-payment immediately. I have a lot of other things that keep me occupied. But I am quite honest with my priorities. I do not like lying at all. We can consider if my delay of paying the $25 co-pay was a lie or not.

You see, Bill Gates is not like this at all. He believes that lying is a good thing. He always lies about everything publicly. In fact he lies so much publicly he explains his lies in meta as "PR" meaning that it is the professional way to handle public speech for him. He not only has no qualms about lying but does so routinely. Not one thing that anyone thinks they "know and love" about Bill Gates is true. That is by his design.

10. VASTNESS OF HUMAN EXPERIENCE AND VALUE OF IMAGINATION

This is a new and experimental direction in my thought processes. In order to appreciate the vastness of the scope of Psychology, the thoughts, feelings, and behaviour of all human beings in all times, we come across some extreme challenges. One is impossibility of tabulation of the elements. There is an intractably large scope in Psychology. I like the analogy with a much more feasible situation of chess. In chess the positions on the board can reach 10^{120} . Direct enumeration is vastly outside the reach of human beings. And yet there developed a discipline for chess from 600 AD in Indian chaturanga to modern standardised chess. I am Asian-American from Bengal, so it does hurt my pride when my rating is so middling, so mediocre, a measly 1366! Thankfully my self-esteem is not tied to my chess rating.

The point is that despite combinatorial impossibilities, the centuries have developed a body of understanding. It is the same for Universal Human Psychology. We would like to develop a body of science here that is accurate versus Nature.

What occurs to me today is that Imagination, even Creative Imagination as well as the great cavernous heart of Man, the particular concerns of the Romantic Era 1780-1840 England and Germany are both exceedingly important for Universal Human Psychology not merely as an inspiration, but perhaps as a corrective. There is a choice that we often make, where we choose some arbitrary and thoroughly drab features of Universal Human Psychology and believe that layers of drab issues will be exhaustive. There are no laws of Nature that assure us of success by this path.

11. PSYCHOLOGICAL BENEFITS OF THE DIVINE

There is a great deal of interest in secularism around the world today. Now I have my own faith, and I won't go into the details here. But the question of interest is the meaning of the Divine within a purely Scientific Psychological context, and the value of Divine to the individual psyche. These have been traditionally issues in Philosophy and Literary Studies partly because men and women of letters in Enlightenment Europe, in the Age of Romanticism and of Modernism had delved into the issues. In particular Robert Musil and Albert Camus had been quite influential in promoting a Gospel of Meaninglessness in the early twentieth century.

I want to be quite clear here that I am far from advocating a Conservative religious ideology of Christian or Islamic or Hindu stripe. The questions are not about religious beliefs. The fundamental aim of Universal Human Psychology is to produce a natural science rather than a Theology.

12. POSSIBILITY OF NATURAL SCIENCE OF MAN

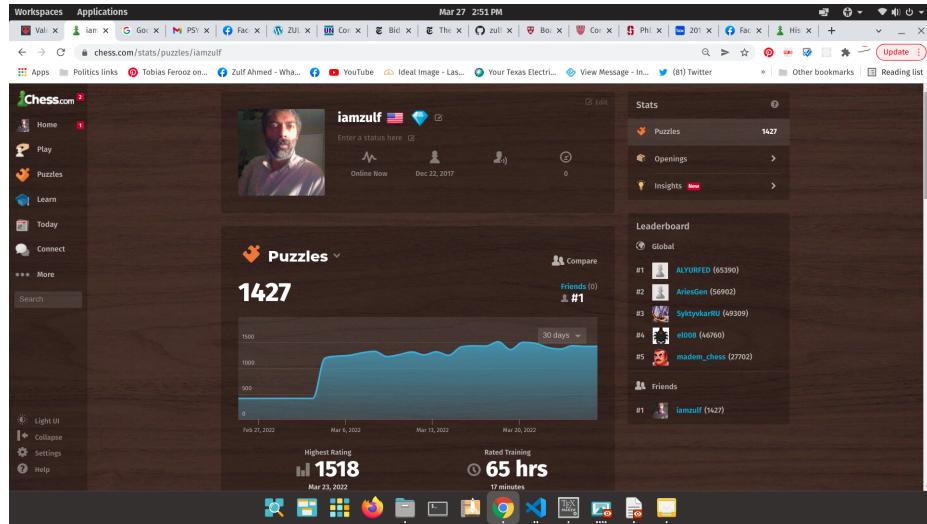

Now I will speak about my private hopes. I believe that there exists a Natural Science of Man that will resolve 80% of many quandaries, confusions, contradictions and conundrums, plain false beliefs, and incoherence from dozens of fields that today stand as a pale shadow of the truth. I promote total focus on Universal Human Psychology as the approach that will yield results that will be transformative for the entire human race in the future.

My contributions are monumental and great in this direction relative to what we had been sure of in the past. But they are just the beginning for a clear understanding of all of Natural Science of Man in the future whose existence cannot be doubted any longer. This is the great optimism that I wish to spread throughout the world. In due time, perhaps a century, my beloved people the Human Race will not be deprived of sharper understanding of the issues of Universal Human Psychology at a maturity.

13. UNFORTUNATELY EVIL OF BILL GATES IS A MATTER OF CONSCIENCE FOR ZULF

I am generally not obsessed about malevolent murderous criminals. They are not worth my time. Unfortunately for me, Bill Gates is an extremely evil malevolent genocidal criminal who not only hurt me, but is plotting to hurt 100 million non-white Americans and billions across the world with extreme malevolent intent. He's been doing this sort of thing all his life, but now I know about it and my Conscience will not be clean till he is destroyed totally by legitimate authorities of course. It is a philanthropic act of mine to ensure as many people of eight billion know that Bill Gates is an extremely Evil Malevolent Charlatan Cunt as possible.

14. MY CHESS RATING GOES UP TO 1427

There is a need to understand the ways in which the natural-born human psyche engages with those aspects of our lives that we have hitherto called 'religious'. I am interested in natural science, and I am interested in this question because I do believe that those aspects of reality we call 'religious' needs to have deeper and sharper and clearer understanding in a Natural Science of Man.

We have something concrete for the background of existence that is genuinely new, and that is the full mathematical physics of four-sphere theory. We know objectively in sharp clarity that there is no origin for things of the universe, that Eternal Recurrence is true but the period is vast, $T_0 \geq 10^{21}$ years.

15. ZULF'S LAW OF RELATIVE IMPORTANCER OF SOCIAL NEEDS TO AUTONOMY

The wonderful paper of Ed Diener and Louis Tay of 2011 [2] gives us the world statistics of the relative importance of Social Needs to Autonomy Need globally. The answer is that the ratio is

$$\mu_{SA} = 1.30$$

where μ_{SA} is the ratio of Social to Autonomy need measures and σ_{SA} is the standard deviation across global regions. This is a very important fact for all religions. We do not want to claim any genesis of religion in social instincts of the type Charles Darwin followed in his attempts to explain Conscience. Instead we want to shore up some relatively basic issues to gain clarity in our explorations.

Human Nature is skewed towards "the social" by around 1.3 times than for the "individual" is our interpretation here. Of course our hope is that our actual connection with religious faith will be affected by this particular universal skew in a straightforward manner.

16. THE MAJOR DIVISION OF PSYCHOLOGY

I am familiarising myself with AP Psychology and undergraduate curriculum slowly. My point of view is very simple. There are two major branches of Psychology. There is Universal Human Psychology that is the good part. The other part is Gossip. It's noises in the jungle.

Let's take a look at what the rest of psychology sounds like [3]. This will seem a great compromise, but let me assure my dear reader that I am quite well-acquainted with Mathematics. And as a connoisseur of the field, I can tell you that there is a feeling of contentment and satisfaction in Mathematics that Psychology has never actually experienced. It's like the way that a New York Finance man with a secure career and good finances that a migrant worker without financial security never experiences. With a leaner focused and more powerful Psychology, this field will produce peaceful contentment. But the gossip and the noise has to be eliminated and focus has to be uniformly on Universal Human Psychology that is coherent.

17. INDIVIDUALITY IS MORE SHARPLY DEFINED IN UNIVERSAL HUMAN PSYCHOLOGY

I want to promote that the finer our understanding of Universal Human Psychology, more clearly and vibrantly we shall be able to detect the peculiar organic unity and individual characteristics, and be able to address each person's absolute uniqueness with greater confidence and helpfulness. Importance of individuality is not appreciated in the abstract as much as in the context of an extremely sharp Universal Human Psychology.

This duality in clarity is insufficiently promoted within Psychology. I was quite influenced, like Robert Musil before me by Ralph Waldo Emerson's Self-Reliance of 1841 and Friedrich Nietzsche's Schopenhauer As Educator, some of the best writings of individualists. I am also fond of James Hillman's The Code Of The Soul. It does not escape me that promotion of individuality is absolutely essential for well-being of my beloved people the Human Race, but it has to be in the context of a Universal Human Psychology.

18. RUNNING ROUGHSHOD OVER BILL GATES IS POINTLESS

The evil archvillain Bill Gates truly deserves to be beaten to a pulp by a large crowd, then burned at the stake in a vast public ceremony. Running roughshod over him is not particularly equitable for the evil harm he has done to me. I want United States Government to arrange all this.

19. NEW DISCOVERY: CIVIL RIGHTS IMPROVES LIFE SATISFACTION BY ALMOST 4%

Q246 is "Civil Rights necessary for democracy". Let $CR-$ denote the condition that the respondent does not believe civil rights is necessary for democracy, and $CR+$ he or she does.

We have

Obviously it's not just one opinion that is different but this is probably one of the greatest triumph for John Locke and Thomas Jefferson in the entire history of the world. Those people who believe that civil rights are necessary for democracy have higher life satisfaction.

This is my discovery. I do not want my work to be used without proper attribution.

20. "VERMIN" ARE TOO BENEVOLENT TO ACCOMODATE BILL GATES

The dictionary says "vermin" are wild animals that are believed to be harmful to crops, farm animals, or game, or that carry disease, e.g., rodents. They are too good as adjectives for Bill Gates. Bill Gates is not a minor problem. He's not vermin. Vermin are minor problems. His entire life was to be a parasite on the entire human race with continuous 24-7 destructive intent on others. That's not a vermin. Vermin are benign by comparison.

21. VINDICATION OF MY GREAT DREAM

I have been thinking about how to produce a better world for most of my life. My natural rights world order is justified now with two strong points (a) 80 percent of human beings approve of natural rights security, and now from today's great discovery (b) life satisfaction of those human beings who believe civil rights is very important for democracy is 4% higher than those who do not believe so. This makes my natural rights world order supported by human nature, consensus, and life satisfaction-enhancing.

I am very pleased by this, because I am very proud of my genius in having the right sort of dream that will benefit all people of the world (minus evil Demons like Bill Gates).

22. I KNOW IT IS HARD TO BELIEVE THAT BILL GATES WAS A DECEIVER

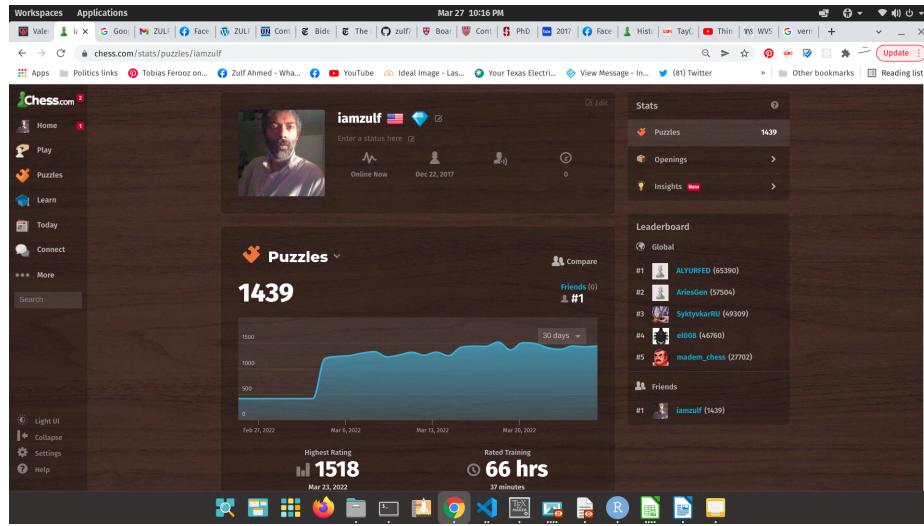

I know Steven Pinker is relieved to confirm that Bill Gates promoted his book Enlightenment Now without having much interest in the contents. That is a great achievement. I do disagree with the steepness of the slope from violence to peacefulness from our early ancestors. But it is a great contribution. I am natural rights world order oriented, not exactly a progressive since I have faith in nontrivial human nature that is species-wide that is still shrouded in mystery, and it is an Angelic Race, heavily skewed toward good moral values. This is my discovery and I am immensely proud since this is work of immortal stature.

Bill Gates deception level is really far outside the range of ordinary human possibility. He was born when Thomas Mann's The Confessions of Felix Krull was becoming prominent, and he embodied an extreme example of a total charlatan. His malevolence is beyond all human comprehension as well.

23. SAD TRUTH 1439 IS CURRENT REACH

In my chess practice, I am learning the hard truth that I will be stuck in the 1439 type level for quite a long time. I was optimistic for something better but my discipline is not complying.

MARCH 26 2022 6:30 PM ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED DEMANDS VARIOUS PRIVILEGES FROM HSOC

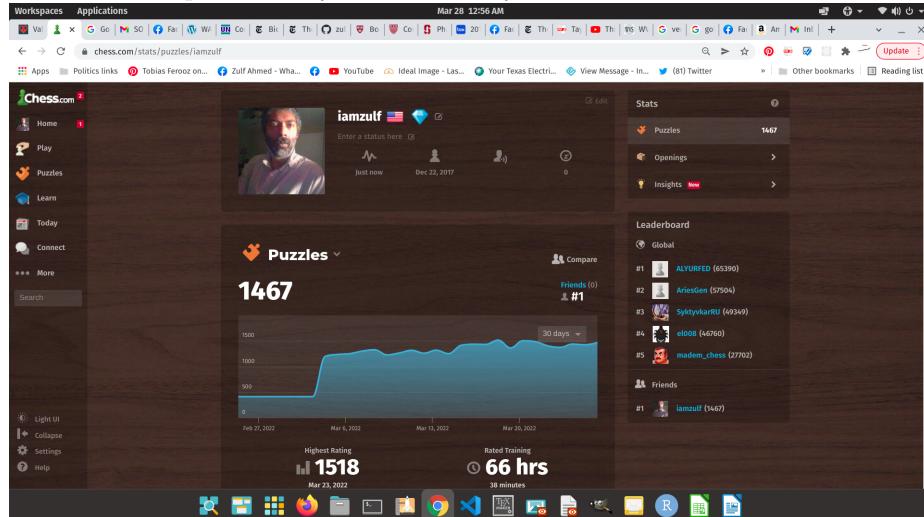

There is really not much I can do. There will be improvement in the future.

Now what I do not understand is why Harvard-Stanford-Oxford-Cambridge is not able to offer me a tenured full professorship and $80 million investment into my company. I simply do not understand this. They ought to make decisions faster as Bill Gates is day-and-night considering harm to me and HSOC are lazy about doing anything right on time.

24. MY CHESS RATING HITS 1467

There is a lot of volatility in my chess rating, so I quickly note down that on March 28 2022 I did hit 1467. I am trying to push my game to 1550s territory as the next small step but clearly this is not easy for me.

Now when I pass away, I don't want my memory to be enshrined by 'reached 1550s in chess'. Rather, I want people to focus on the great Life Satisfaction increase that is subtle, detected for those people who believe that civil rights are part of democratic politics. That is more important, since it is a subtle relationship between classical liberal natural rights theory and actual people's life satisfaction levels that increase statistically significantly on the global human race. That's one of the deepest achievements of John Locke and Thomas Jefferson and others. This was not known before I discovered this extremely subtle and important fact.

25. ZULF EXPLAINS THE ISSUES INVOLVING HUMAN NATURE AND CLASSICAL LIBERAL THEORY

First of all let me reorient my dear reader quickly so that he or she sees the world as I do. Then I will explain the issues as I see them.

So Human Nature is unknown and mysterious with most of it still shrouded in ignorance and darkness with some small parts known to us. We know that Human Nature must necessarily exist and must necessarily be highly nontrivial. We know this but we cannot even be sure that our natural languages have adequate vocabulary to describe the subtleties of Human Nature. Yes, that Francis Galton had sophomoric lexical hypothesis but unlike me he was not an immortal genius, so we pat him on the back for being a clever amateur and otherwise dismiss him.

Now let's get to more serious issues. We want to know to what extent classical liberal political theory is harmonious with human nature. We want our political theories to be harmonious by some other standards than low standards such as the Presidents of the United States deems so, or medium standards like Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed decrees so, or higher standards like human nature is known to such and such extent and not Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed but we have some evidence that Nature deems such and such elements of Classical Liberal theory to have validity. We want our political theories to be right versus higher standards.

In the history of classical liberal thought, the abstract 'pursuit of Happiness' was never before superceded by concrete global empirical evidence that classical liberal propositions such as "civil rights are part of democratic politics" would have any relation to eudaimonia, or Life Satisfaction, of my beloved people. I discovered the evidence this very day.

This does not tell us that the founders of Classical Liberal philosophy, Locke, then Jefferson, then Rawls, etc. were exactly right. They were not. Marriage failures around the world are due to deficiencies in classical liberal philosophy. But they had significant substance, for 80 percent of the world support human rights and believe in civil rights as part of democratic politics is correlated with 4% increase in Life Satisfaction. These are extremely important foundations of the political philosophy that one does not need to defend with aircraft carriers and fleets of tanks.

26. ZULF'S ANSWER TO PRAGMATISM AND IDEALISM

My answer is life is very short and you have little knowledge of even who or what you will be after you shuffle off the mortal coil. Do not impoverish your life by arbitrary choices like this. I say choose both because both have value. Neither is sufficient for what you really want to do (I won't guess for you what that is). So Pragmatism is a Rook and Idealism is a Queen, and you have to play both as it suits your fancy and they will be coherent sometimes (good moves) and they will botch things up other times. There is no reason that you ought to be held to any dichotomy that others tell you are strict. I do not believe there is a division. Idealism is very valuable and so is pragmatism, and I am neither. I am Zulf. Why should I limit myself in silly ways like "I swear oath of fealty to Pragmatism or Idealism". Life will go by and I will be dead, and I will feel rather foolish that I constrained myself in such an immature manner.

Let's look at common complaints. "Oh the man is unreliable and he is incoherent." Well put in the work to merge Idealism and Pragmatism. You can't order a good merging from a menu in a restaurant. If you don't want to do that, you probably should not be involved in these issues. Your maturity has to be good, you have to take your efforts seriously enough. But once you get past these, don't engage in silly food fights. Focus on substance of things that the greatest minds of the past give no guidance. There are many things here. Perspective comes when you imagine that you have to give an accounting of your life and conscience right away, to God if you are religious in that way, to yourself if you are a good judge. In the end when you die, it does not matter which other human being said mean things about you. Who gives a damn? You still have a responsibility to yourself to be who were meant to be, and you ought to have some modicum of pride and joy in this life.
